Session.

STATE ORGANIZER APPOINTED

Congressman Glass and J. A.

Everett Address the Con-

by Congressman Carter Giass, who discussed briefly the subject of primary education and the necessity of the development of the country schools.

The next speaker was J. A. Everpti. Of Indianapolis, Ind., whose address was closely followed and thoroughly appreciated by his auditors. He told of the work of the society and what I has already accomplished through organization for the planters, and he discussed at length the value of organization for the farmers.

Frank Tinsley, of Amherat, talked inberestingly on the advantages to be gained by the farmers by organization and co-operation. He especially urged that the planters should not the themselves up to the commussion men.

At the close of this talk a resolution was adopted, thanking Mr. Everett for his fine address. D. H. Brown, of Cumborland county, made a short talk on the commission men, pleading with his hearers to refrain from "tising up" with them.
